MORE CLERKS IN DEMAND

Assistant Postmaster General Heath to Ask for a Large Increase.

Be Applied for Through the Action of Congress at the Coming Session. Summer Vacations for Those in the Service of the Department

More than a thousand additional clerks will be taken into the Postoffice Department this winter, if the bill now being prepared under the First Assistant Postmaster General, Perry S. Heath, shall pass at the coming session of Congress. Chief George W. Beavers, of the Salary and Allowance Division, will have immediate Lot of Plaid and Honeycomb charge of the matter before the Senate and House of Representatives, and he stated today that there is every likelihood of the bill becoming a law.

With the advent of such a large additional force, extensive promotions will take place among the clerks already in office. The Postoffice Department employes receive the lowest salaries in the Government service, and it is the aim to raise the pay of the more efficient clerks by advancing them, and introducing the new employes into the lower grades. The minimum sal-ary of these new clerks will be $600 per

Mr. Heath is also making an effort to Mr. Heath is also making an entire to secure for clerks throughout the country vacations, at appropriate times, with pay. The stand Mr. Heath takes is that if the clerks in the other departments can be al-lowed thirty days' leave each year on vaclerks in the other departments can on valowed thirty days' leave each year on valued on the clerks in the Postoffice Department ought to be allowed at least fifteen days' vacation each year, and receive their pay at the same time.

Last year, for the first time in the history of the department, a number of clerks in the postal department were granted leave of absence and substitutes were provided, out of a special appropriation. Only clerks, however, in the first and second grades of postoffices could be thus treated, because of the smallness of the appropriation. This year it will be one of Mr. Heath's efforts to have this appropriation increased to enable substitutes to be provided for all clerks in the service, at certain times, so that a short vacation may be enjoyed.

In the past it has been the custom for the Postoffice Department to take on additional men at summer and winter resorts during the busy season, and pay them out of the regular clerk hire appropriation; but the amount of business at these resorts has increased so tremendously during the past few years that it has become advisable to make a change in the conduct of these offices. At some places the department has provided free delivery during the busy summer months, and in the winter this plan has been suspended. With the new appropriation a number of these places will receive permanent additions of clerks and carriers, so that free delivery can be mainbe enjoyed.

All the additional clerks will be obtained, as usual, through the Civil Service Com-mission, and the substitutes that will be called upon will also be selected through the same channel. AN IMPORTANT HEARING.

Questions Involving the Right to Discharge Employes.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 27.—The first active move in the fight between the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad and the Order of Railway Telegraphers, was made yesterday before United States Commissioner Fiske, when a hearing was given Train Despatcher Hugh J. Hill, of the Taunton division of the road, on a complaint brought against him at the instigation of Peter J. Gallaghan, a member of the Railway Telegraphers' Union. Hill is accused of discharging Gallaghan on the ground that he was a member of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, in violation of section 10 of the Interstate Commerce law, so-called.

Already an interesting question of law Already an interesting question of law has been raised by the defendant corporation, which, if sustained, will puncture the case of the prosecution. The question is whether one employed in the train despatcher's office, is "actually engaged in dense on New Hampshire Avenue for the the railway train service" within the moun- | winter.

THE COLES ESTATE.

Plan to Meet the Requirements of the Will.

NEWPORT, R. L. Oct. 27.-At a special meeting of the city council held last night an agreement was talked over in settlement of the gixth clause of the will of Mrs. Elizof the sixth clause of the will of Mrs. Eliz-abeth U. Coles, of New York. She died eight Miss Carrie Wray Gosnell, of Baltimore, years ago and left her Newport estate in the fashionable Bellevue Avenue district and $150,000 for the establishment of a college to be known as Coles College. Judge Samuel Blatchford and Hon, William P. Sheffield were named trustees, the former leclining to serve.

The estate is fast going to ruin, and seeing it was impossible to found a college with so little money, Mr. Sheffield has agreed to the sale of the estate, the proceeds of which, with $20,000, shall go for the establishment of a professorship in Newport's industrial school. The balance of the money, $130,000, will go to George and Alexander Coles, of New York.

MISSION WORK IN ASIA.

Matters Laid Before the Protestant

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 27,-The missionary council of the Protestant Episcopal Church concluded its labors yesterday and the House of Bishops convened today. A resolution was introduced yesterday to memorialize Congress against the seating of Brigham H. Roberts, the po'ygamist Mormon, but were ruled out by the pre-Preight Rate Advances in Prospect NEW YORK, Oct. 27.-Commissione Goldard, of the Trunk Line Association, said yesterday that the movement to advance east-bound freight rates was by no means so sweeping as published reports indicated. As he understood the grain rate had been fixed at a basis of 22 cents, which was an advance from 29 cents. Five years ago the rate was 25 cents. The movement looked toward a gradual advance to the rates formerly prevailing. It would be gradual because the shippers would not stand radical advances. The railroads think that they should get their share of the general business presperity. There is to be no advance of a general character at present, outside of grain and grain products, but some special lines of freigh will be advanced to a point correspond to that reached about ten years ago.

Saturday Shoe Sales

To Be Doubled Tomorrow

We have been almost doubling our usual business every week so far this fall. The warm weather of the past few days, however, has caused a slight sethack to our sales. This shortage has got to be offset tomorrow—and you shoe buyers will be benefited by this off weather.

In anticipation of the present high prices of shoes, we ordered last summer twice our usual quantity of fall and winter shoes and we have got to dispose of twice as many shoes as usual in consequence.

Old prices will prevail here as long as our present stock holds out, but for tomorrow we shall even make special discounts from these low prices in order to double our usual big Saturday sales.

Jane Colthar, of Bunker Hill, Ill., about forty-five years old, is penniless in Rochester, having been robbed of all her money, $4,075, by a New York confidence man. According to her story, which has been verified by Chief of Police Cleary, Mrs. Colthar married a man who gave the name of James Mouroe, who was introduced to her by letter from a man calling himself Mr. North, who made her acquaintance about month ago as she was traveling from her home in Bunker Hill, Ill., to Chicago. They went to New York the day following the marriage, taking with them Mrs. Colthar's one-year-old daughter, the other one, thirteen years old, going to the home of her mother's sister in Bloomfield, Ill. All of Mrs. Colthar's household goods were packed and shipped to New York city. Monroe represented to Mrs. Colthar that he wanted to buy a store here and asked her for a $1,000 loan. She gave him $2,000 in money and a New York draft for $2,000 besides $75 in pocket money. Monroe started for New York, saying he was going there to buy goods. Last Wednesday Mrs. Colthar received a letter from Monroe, the moncy his wife gave him. He advised her to return to her home in Bunker Hill or else go to Bloomfield to ner sister, as he did not know when he could join her. Mrs. Coithar was staggered by this news and gradually realized that she had been de-ceived. She went to Chief Cleary, who immediately took steps to catch the man, which so far have been unsuccessful. Mrs. Colthar was assisted by the Young Wom-en's Christian Association, and later cared for by a member of the Knights of Pythi-as, her first husband having been a mem-ber of that order. She since has found employment as a nurse, and her daughter is living at 254 East Main Street, with
